A close-up photograph of a chef's hand in a white uniform, using a small metal knife to carefully place a perfectly poached egg into a black ceramic bowl. The bowl is filled with a vibrant mix of ingredients: sliced avocado, chunks of fresh salmon, and a pile of bean sprouts. In the background, a wooden cutting board with a large knife and a package of egg products are visible on a white marble countertop. A large white circle is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing text.
